May 1985

Dear April,

I really can't believe that our 12th year together is almost over. It seems like it was just yesterday that you and I got on the bus Freshman year scared out of our wits! (At least I was!) Since then we've gone through many wild episodes!

Freshman year: standing on the stupid bus, me blowing kisses at Father John, Jill taking your purse, trying out for basketball (for Mr. Kay), Sophomore year: our trip to Great Adventures, your year long cough, Studio 54, running for a seat on the bus,

Junior year: our first year together on J.V. basketball (which you loved so much), Ring Day and Studio 54, religion class, SENIOR YEAR: my car, senior courtyard, yearbook, planning the prom, applying to College; PENN, NYU, Penn, NYU, Penn, NYU, Penn, NYU; and me to Iowa! Wow!

That wacky skiing trip when it was 70°, eating Kosher food, dancing with Nick the Anthony, Dameer, Sergio, Bobby... horseback-riding, those lovely horses.

Something I'll never forget: Europe trip: our two-floor room, mini-bar, the Louvre where I was attacked by gypsies, the metro, the Eiffel Tower where we got half way up, my noisy camera (check distance!), Michelle, Easter Mass where you fell asleep (I would kill for that cracker!), Klaus, Mickey Maus, Make love please!, the nameless man I dressed three times for, There's no shower curtain in here!, "That's a good question Ba ha ha!", WOOF!, "The meat is alive!"

That was an unforgettable trip and I had so much fun; I hope I'll get to do something like that in the future.

I can't believe that for the first time next year we won't be together! I'm going to be so scared at home while you're at N.Y.U. But I'll try to visit you often and we'll hang out in the city.

I hope you have the best time at the Prom even though I won't (sniff) be there. Let me know how the "god" behaves!!

Wait until graduation, I'll be crying as hard as the rest of you; can you believe it? Me who can't wait to split this place is gonna cry!

Love
Aline

(April)
Dear April,

My super long, fake nails are preventing me from writing in my best penmanship, but I'll try my best. For 3 years we sat in the same classes and hardly spoke to each other. It's hard to believe that this year we did almost everything together: ate lunch at the same table, yearbook, ski trip, ^{Pizza} Brew, Europe, and the prom! But most of all we grew together this year. I know that I learned a lot from you about being my own person, expressing love, the importance of setting the right priorities. I'm glad I helped you through your college decision. Remember — your feelings are never wrong! All the events in your life, the good, bad, & unusual experiences, have helped make you the unique, sensitive, and special person you are. I feel really sad when I think about not seeing you and everyone else next year. But next year starts. →

Dear April,

It seems I've known you all my life. We've been in practically every class together. I'm glad we've been friends. You're a really nice girl. I'm sure the only class you'll never forget is Spanish.
Right?!?!? Have fun in college and don't forget to take a Spanish Class. I know you'll be successful in the future. (Tendrás éxito)
Have fun over the ^{en el futuro} summer!

Love,
Patricia Hodapp

a "new chapter" of our lives. I can see that you will certainly take advantage of every thing college and life will offer you. Whatever you decide to do, your respect for yourself and others will help you succeed. I'm not making any promises but I hope we can at least keep in touch with each other for as long as we can.

P.S. - Even if we lose touch, remember that we were good friends and, at the time, I meant everything I wrote.
Love Always,
Sylvia

P.S. - Remember - how Michele brought us together, Elton John, "Blue Eyes" St. Lucille ("You failed - Bahahaha!") A.P. Math, Panno & John - their novel, Laura's lunches, "Sylvia is going to Bermuda - Ah!" Dr. Mami, Dr.
Richard, me licking my plate clean, so many men, so little time (or is it the other way around), cutting school to go to Cross County.
- even if you don't remember these things 25 or 30 yrs. from now -
these were good times, with good memories of good friends! ♥

NEW GENERATION

"New Generation" is a series which has been running for four years but only premiered this September. Obviously, this is a contradiction which requires some explaining. Four years ago the producers of this series got together with the idea: Profile a senior class in high school for one year to let the audience get to know and understand what kind of people they are. There were two twists, though. One was that the cast would constantly be replaced with a new senior class as the old one graduated. The second was that the title of the series would be changed to fit the new senior class. The past three titles have been "Life is an Ongoing Movie," "Believe in Your Dreams," and "Celebrate Life." This season it was titled "New Generation."

This year's cast knew exactly what they wanted to say to the viewers: "Examine us, the New Generation! We are the future!" Judging by the episodes of the past year, this cast of 144 is one of diversity. They are spontaneous, studious, caring, intelligent, loving, enthusiastic and optimistic. This new generation is also an extremely active one. Their interests include theater, student government, athletics, music, writing, dance, art, and community service.

"New Generation" examined the students working and relaxing. The series highlighted special events but also included a look at everyday life. It was knowing how these students coped with everyday situations and decisions that really let us see into their true selves!

This new generation left no doubt that they are extremely willing and able to face any challenge.

Saturday, June 22 (4 p.m. on MRHS) marks the final installment of the year and the last appearance of the entire cast of 144 students. After watching them grow in mind, body and spirit it will be difficult to say good-bye. It will also not be easy for the cast to part. They have been together for four years, filled with good times and personal growth. Nevertheless, each one knows she is one of the "new generation" and there will always be a lasting bond among the cast members.

25 Years on the Set

In the world of television, there are often very gifted young actors and actresses who are labelled "child stars" early on in their careers. Some of these prodigies carry their success over into their adult lives, but a large number do not. However, for those who fail to retain their popularity after their teens, there is no need to despair; for their education has not been allowed to suffer. Dedicated, caring and hard-working teachers can always be found on the set of T.V. shows where minors are working: teachers who realize the necessity of a good education. Miss Lenore Leiser is one of these special few.

This year, Miss Leiser celebrates her 25th year of teaching on the set of MRHS Studios. She began her career at MRHS in September of 1960, just three years after the studio opened its doors for the first time. She brought with her a B.S. degree in Math from the College of Mt. St. Vincent and a M.A. in Physical Education from N.Y.U. Miss Leiser has taught both Math and Physical Education for the past 25 years and has been the Mathematics Department Chairperson for a large majority of this time. She also had held the position of Director of Physical Education since 1960, and has state certification in both Math and Physical Education.

Miss Leiser's vast accomplishments do not end in the classroom. In addition to her dedicated teaching, she has put together teams of athletic teenage actresses and coached them in basketball, track and softball for many championship years. Miss Leiser is a very dedicated teacher, who is willing to stay a little longer if a student needs extra help. Through her kindness and enthusiasm, she helps make each day a little brighter for her students. Many will never forget her near perfect geometric circles!

Miss Leiser has seen many changes during her 25 successful years at MRHS. Students have come and gone, but her feeling of accomplishment when a student understands and her commitment to education have remained the same throughout all of these splendid years.

The entire organization of MRHS studios is grateful to Miss Leiser for her 25 years of excellence and wishes her many more fruitful teaching experiences! AD MULTOS ANNOS!!

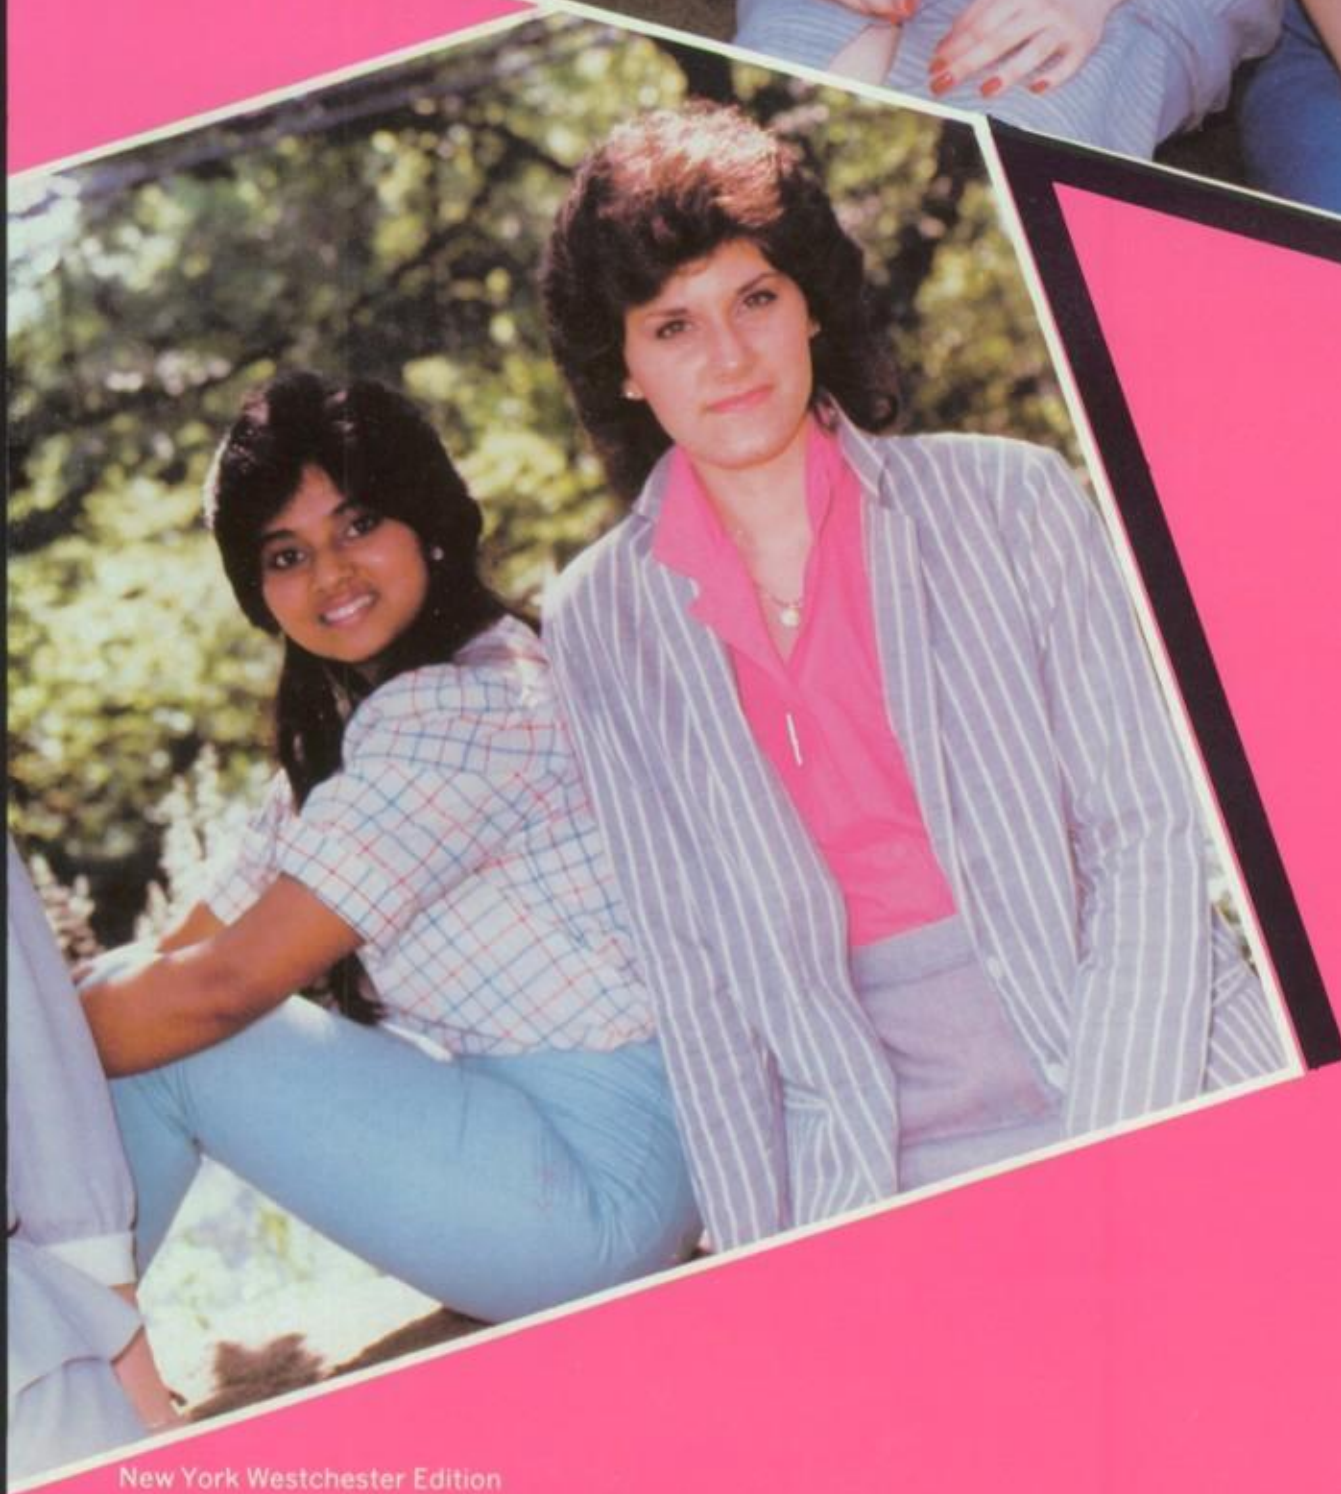

End

Dear April,

I can't believe 4 years are finally over. These past 4 years with you have been great! I wish you only the best of luck, happiness and success in everything you do. I'm really going to miss you in college but I guess I'll have to sleep over with you a couple of times. Keep in touch over the summer of course.

Love
Joan

120 OLD SAW MILL RIVER ROAD, HAWTHORNE, NEW YORK 10532

This issue of Reginian Guide contains all the usual newsworthy features such as Insight, sports, specials, the crossword puzzle, and local and network listings. In addition, this time around, we would like to throw the spotlight on some of the people who work backstage. These are the people whose names quickly roll by on the end credits; the people who are not always familiar to all of the viewers.

We've scanned the entire T.V. industry to pick out the best "behind the scenes" crews and give an in-depth look at who they are and what they do which makes them the special people of the entertainment world.

The team of Paul Eiseman, Jr., and Hank Zern won hands down in the maintenance category. Keeping up the sets and equipment of many T.V. Shows provides a daily challenge for these two men. Their skills and years of experience have made them the most sought-after maintenance specialists in the New York Westchester viewing area.

Rose Pezzuto and Madeline Kenyan were chosen as the top secretaries in the industry. Their employers are both prominent figures in the television field, who rely on Mrs. Pezzuto and Mrs. Kenyan to contact producers, directors, stars and extras. In addition to dealing with the nitty-gritty of the television world, both must perform the traditional secretarial duties of answering phone calls, typing correspondence, and keeping track of important files. All these duties require discretion and, as their name implies, these secretaries know how to keep this information from inquiring magazines and snooping reporters.

Sister Gemma, C.R., and Maria DiPaolo are two women with an extremely important job. They are known as studio librarians. They file any video tape or script that belongs to the studio. They do a great job storing and recording these items so that they are easily available for future use.

Sister Mary Christine, C.R. and Mrs. Mary DeCaprio both work on one of the most difficult aspects of the entertainment industry: financial affairs. Sister Christine coordinates the finances of many large productions. Mrs. DeCaprio has the important and arduous task of recording all of these financial transactions. Both have come to be admired for their money-managing skills.

Safety and health are two important considerations on any set. These two factors are the responsibility of the nurse assigned to that particular production. Mrs. Jamesetta Newland is recognized as the most outstanding nurse in this field. Mrs. Newland deals with minor injuries for the most part, but is prepared to handle any situation that may arise.

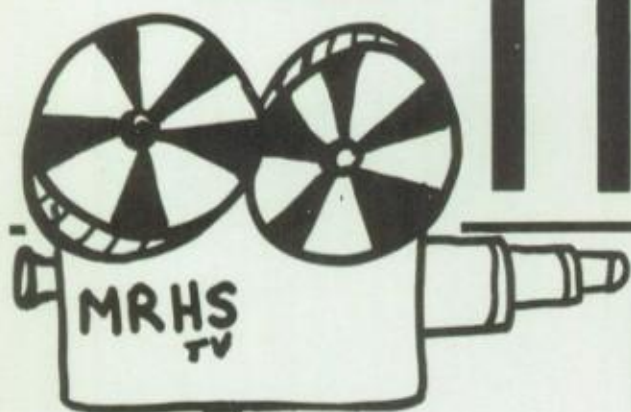

The group chosen as best in the category of cafeteria personnel is made up of Yolanda Dommarmuth, Eva Smith, Blanche Delaney, Mary Lou Iovino, and is directed by Tina Williams. Not only do they provide good, nutritious meals for their cast and crew, but they also add a personal touch that often removes tension from a fast-paced set. Taking a cue from these ladies, everyone relaxed and enjoyed good times on the set this year, before getting back to work.

We would like to salute everyone above for their excellence and dedication. They perform tasks crucial to the entertainment industry, but they are seldom given the limelight. The spotlight is yours, take a bow. End

INSIGHT

Focus

"As the Page Flips"

Cable television has picked up the show "As the Page Flips," which was cancelled on regular television two seasons ago. Viewers may remember the show as a drama about the life of newspaper workers, but to attract the younger majority of viewers, the show will be turned into a night-time soap opera.

Cable television hopes the change will catch larger audiences. New members have been added to the original cast. Ten new episodes will be shown each month and excitement is promised.

The show opens with the murder of the editor-in-chief. Three people are after that position, and all will do anything to get it. Who killed the editor and who is the mysterious character who keeps ransacking the dead editor-in-chief's office? For answers to these questions, tune in to "As the Page Flips."

"Aerobics For Fitness"

Can't fit into that new pair of jeans? Are you tired of being out of shape? Do you want to firm up those flabby areas? If you've answered yes to these questions, then it's time you check out "Aerobics for Fitness" on your local television channel. The show will get you up and exercising to the tunes of the latest hits and has a special diet menu listings for those who wish to shed those extra pounds.

Each show concentrates on a different area of work. The exercises will start on a beginner's level and progress to more advanced routines. They are safe, fun, and usually simple. So, get out those sweat suits or those leotards and tights, and work off that extra piece of cake!

"Sister's Tots"

A Religious Sister hosting a children's program? Holy Mackerel! Who else will enter the world of lights, camera, and action?

The new program will be shown next season on Saturday mornings and will be competing with the other children's programs. The producers of the new program are certain that the show will be a success among children and parents alike. Each week there will be a storybook time show and tell, arts and crafts, and fun games.

The program will be hosted by Sister Eustelle who belongs to the order of the Sisters of the Resurrection. When asked why she decided to host this program, Sister responded that she loved children. This is not the Sister's first time in front of a camera. The mild-manner Sister once starred in her own detective series called "Sister of the Law," which was cancelled due to poor ratings.

"Easy Steps to Cooking"

For those who even manage to foul up a peanut butter and jelly sandwich, don't despair! Help is on the way! Starting next season there will be a new cooking show for hopeless cooks. The show will be hosted by Angie Ferloni, author of the best selling cookbook, 25 Different Ways to Boil Water. She will be giving step-by-step instructions on such things as how to make hard boiled eggs and other gourmet dishes. The making of delicious and exotic desserts such as jello, will no longer seem complicated. The show will also be giving viewers tips on proper techniques of bagging, plastic wrapping, and foil papering of leftovers. Step-by-step instructions will also be available.

Each "Easy Steps to Cooking" show will have a featured celebrity who will co-host and help with the cooking. For those who love to cook, or those who wish to learn, this show is a must.

Man of the Media

Over the past twelve months, the media has covered many, many different personalities. Most come and go quickly, but there is one man who continues to leave a lasting impression. That man is Archbishop John J. O'Connor of the Archdiocese of New York. Although still garnering a shower of media attention, May 1, 1984 was a day when the media flooded Archbishop O'Connor with attention as he visited Maria Regina High School in Hartsdale, N.Y.

The stage was set with Sister Raymond's colorful rainbows, flowers and butterflies symbolizing hope, joy and new life. In his usual manner, Archbishop O'Connor charmed over 1,200 students with his wit and humor. He had everyone cheering as he cracked jokes, tried on a sweatshirt and baseball cap, or simply smiled and waved.

Archbishop O'Connor did much more than entertain that day. He delivered an extremely important and serious message: respect for all human life should be a priority for all people. He implored, "Join me in the fight for the unborn." He spoke not only of respect for the lives of the unborn, but also of respect for the lives of the elderly and of the physically and mentally handicapped. The Archbishop conveyed his belief that God watches over all people, and all people have a special place in life; a special vocation to which God is calling them. He spoke directly to the students present, pleading with them to join him in this noble and important quest.

Recently, Archbishop O'Connor has called Catholics to live their faith in every facet of their lives. In presenting this challenge to "all who have ears to hear," Archbishop O'Connor has shown himself to be a man of principle and courage. He is clearly teaching the unchanging moral code of the Catholic Church. He continues to show his people how to meet the challenges of this code in a society which is constantly changing. Our survey shows that the majority of Catholics in the Archdiocese of New York have welcomed this clear and outspoken leadership.

Archbishop O'Connor has called all Catholics to come to terms with what being a believer in Christ and the Catholic Church's teachings really means. Throughout it all, some controversy has arisen, but the Archbishop has handled it with grace and, of course, humour. While speaking the truth, he has never judged another, no matter what his or her difference of opinion or belief.

A man of the media, Archbishop O'Connor is first and foremost a servant of God. He continues to lead his flock closer to God with great kindness and insight. Inside information has it that students and teachers at Maria Regina High School continue to enthusiastically support this man whom they have come to know and love. End

SOLID GOLD

This hit series on MRHS continues to count down the top hits with style. "Solid Gold" is still bringing us "new hits" along with our favorite "golden oldies." These recording sensations rule the school and set the trends of the day.

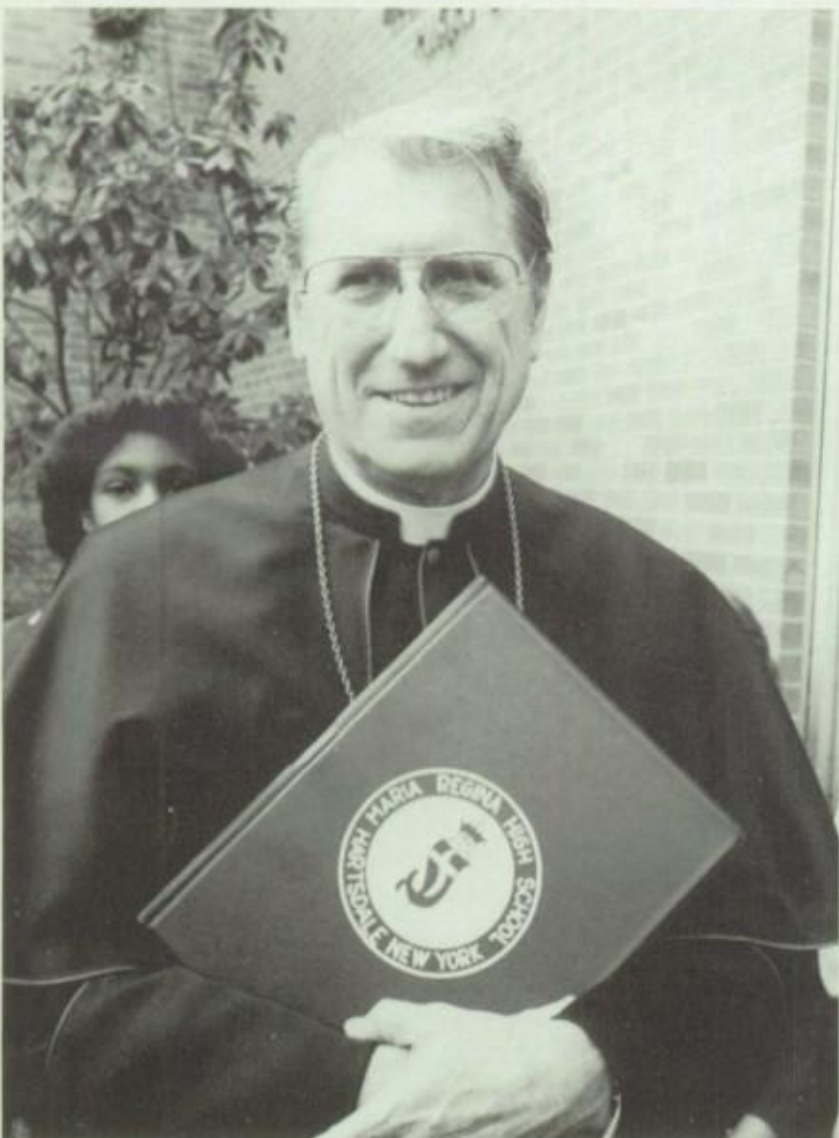

We, the fans, can count on these hit artists for quality "sound" and "resistance" to all the "weathering" we give them. We spend a great deal of time listening to their words of wisdom. They help set the tone we will follow for the rest of our lives. In years to come, these artists will be fondly remembered for filling our lives with tunes of love and guidance.

This week, "Solid Gold" pays tribute to these superstars for their talents and their heart-felt works. See page 18 for a review of this year's most memorable hits! Be there!

Workin' Hard

This series takes a good look at all the clubs and groups that make life diverse and well-rounded at MRHS. Each week, a different organization will be reviewed. Behind the scenes, the cameras will follow as students and teachers work together to achieve a desired goal or lend a helping hand.

Special coverage will be given to season activities, such as the Christmas Program, conducted by Sister Pauline and Sister Cecilia Mary, featuring the Glee Club and Freshman Chorus.

Underneath all of the flying papers, the endless ideas, and the general confusion, is the main energy force — the tremendous people. Watch us NOW!

Jo,

These past four years have been great, but you made them even greater.

I wish you the best of luck in the future and hope you find your dream.

I love you always pal.

Love,
Jo

Dear Joy (my bestest buddy),

You've been a big part of these past four years. No matter what happened, you were always there for me. When I needed to talk or I needed a shoulder to cry on, you never let me down. You were through it all, and I appreciate it more than I can say!

Your bestest buddy 4-ever
Joanie

You are the most special person in my life. I can't tell you how much you mean to me. I love you.

You are the best

These four years went by quickly because of you. You made me laugh when I wanted to cry — you made me feel great when I felt rotten. You guys are the best.

Zullo, we won't get into why you are so important to me, but I think you know. Thanks! If there's anything . . .

Murtha, you just know I love you!!!

Love you all,

This Is It!

This episode marks the series finale for a show that many viewers have come to know and love. It may be difficult to say goodbye, but say goodbye we must. The girls have decided, after four hit seasons, to move on to new challenges and to make room for other new and rising stars.

These last four seasons have been filled with laughter and tears; with successes and failures. We, the viewers, have watched this band of girls struggle through the "Twilight Zones" and grow together into "Incredible Seniors." Some episodes of the series such as: "My First Friend," "Sophomore Button Day," "Boston or Bust," and "Junior Ring Day" have become television classics.

This final show is a tribute to these super girls. So, tune in and join us in saluting these stars — "They're Incredible."

Mom and Dad,

In the last four years I've been through so much. You were there for me through the good as well as the bad. I don't know if I would have made it through high school without your love and support. Thank you for being so patient. Anyone else would have given up — but you were there for me. I knew then as I know now that you will always be there for me. Thank you for that and so much more. But most of all thanks for being my friends. I love you both. Ana

To my brother, Marcos:

You told me that these four years would go by fast but I didn't believe you. You're the best brother a girl could ever have and even though I don't come around to saying it, I love you. Thanks for being there. Ana

Dear Mom and Stevie, It was just yesterday, it seems, you sent me on a bus to Maria Regina. I swore I wouldn't like my "school." You said you were doing the best for me. Well kid, 4 years and 98 detentions later we finally made it!! Without a doubt the best thing I got from my 4 years at Maria was a friend like you — nobody can quite compare!! Don't you dare ever try to change!! We've been through a lot and if I could do it all over again, I wouldn't change a thing!! We've had so many good times together that even 100 pages wouldn't be enough space to write them all down in. Thanks for making my high school years the best and wildest times of my life!! You're the best and so am I! Your partner in crime, Joan

Special thanks to my friend Dykes who always manages to make a long story longer. Ana — who is still trying to escape from Alcatraz. Jodi — Who hyperventilates when things get tough. Pat — sweetie, you gave me the best summer EVER. My special thanks goes out to Jerry who is an all around great guy that no one listens to. Seriously Jerry, I consider you one of my closest friends.

Your trust in me means a lot. And of course I can't forget good OL' mom and dad. Your support throughout the years really makes me proud to be your daughter. I Love You All! (Even those I didn't mention due to lack of space.)

On March 23, 1984 a spectacular show combined singing, dancing, rainbows, flowers, doves and balloons with a special ring day ceremony. Directed by Miss Jeanne Donovan, Head of Junior H.R. For pleasant priest pie, a dish commonly experienced at Maria Regina, All ingredients must be mixed in an unusual manner to create a unique version of this classic delight. Father Robertson, Father Jerry, Father Sammy, Father Dunne and Father Hickey are all perfect examples of this classic dish, which brings joy and delight to many people everyday. To be sure all ingredients are real and fresh look for the "REAL" seal — the collar.

Dear Ellen,

I've been going out with you for almost four months. I can still remember what happened the day we met. I didn't expect things to work out this way and I'm sure you didn't either, but I'm glad it did. It's hard to look back and wonder what I would be doing right now if I had never met you. You are the best part of my life and I want to stay with you forever. I know you are upset about me going into the army, but I just wish that you could understand that just because I won't be five miles away from you any more doesn't mean that I'll stop loving you. I'll be thinking about you every day and I will call you. Everytime I think of you, all my problems seem to go away. I will love you always and forever.

May all your hopes and dreams come true. And may God be always there for you. You make us proud for being your parents, and that is why we love you so.

FOLLOW UP BOB ASHMAN

In the third of our series of articles, "Follow Up," we would like to give recognition to Bob Ashman. Bob burst into our lives over a year ago during a special called "Junior Retreat." Bob was one of the group leaders for this retreat which was filmed as a docu-drama with students from Maria Regina High School. One of the most memorable moments of that special was the sight of Bob playing the piano while 144 girls sang "Day by Day."

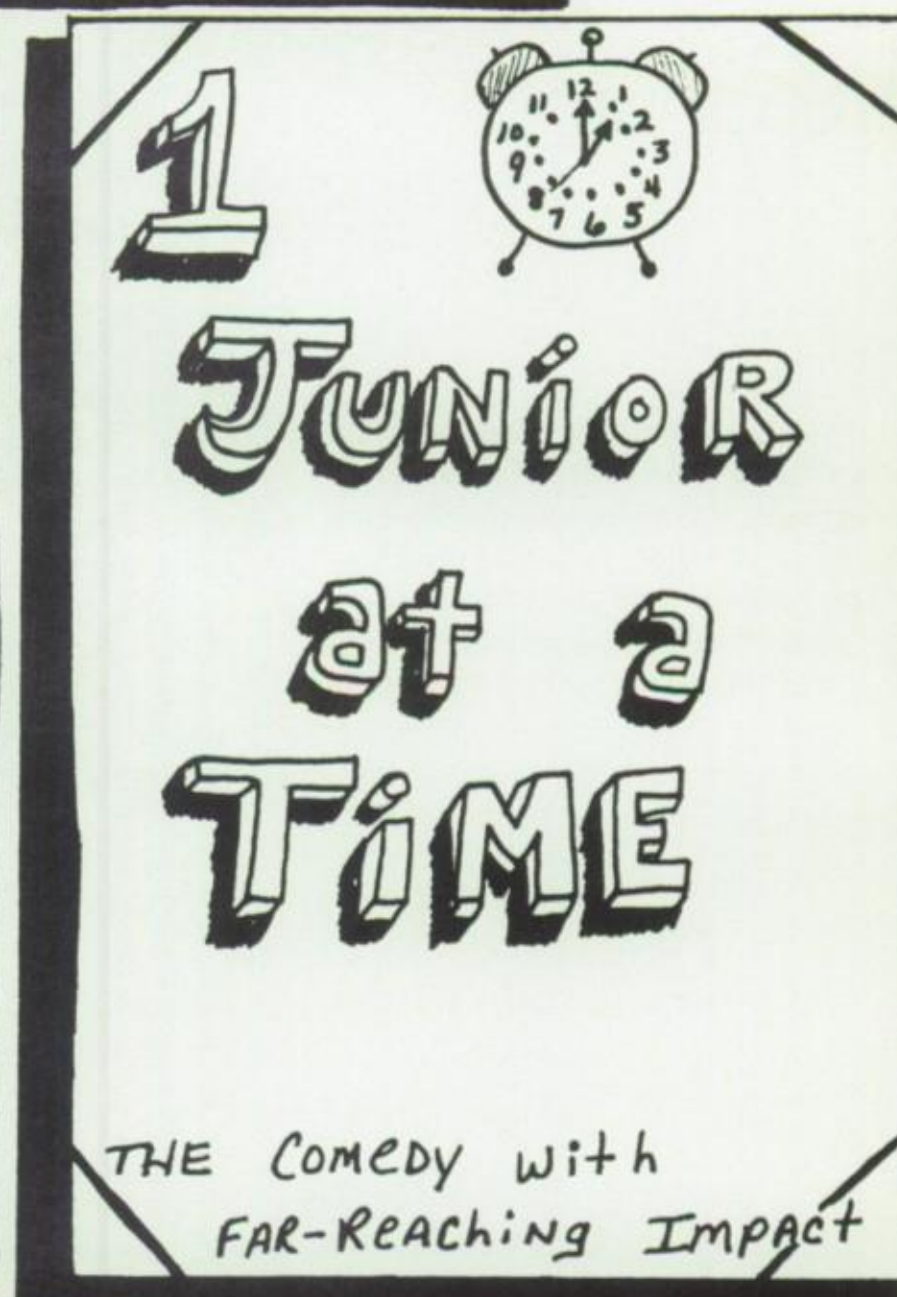

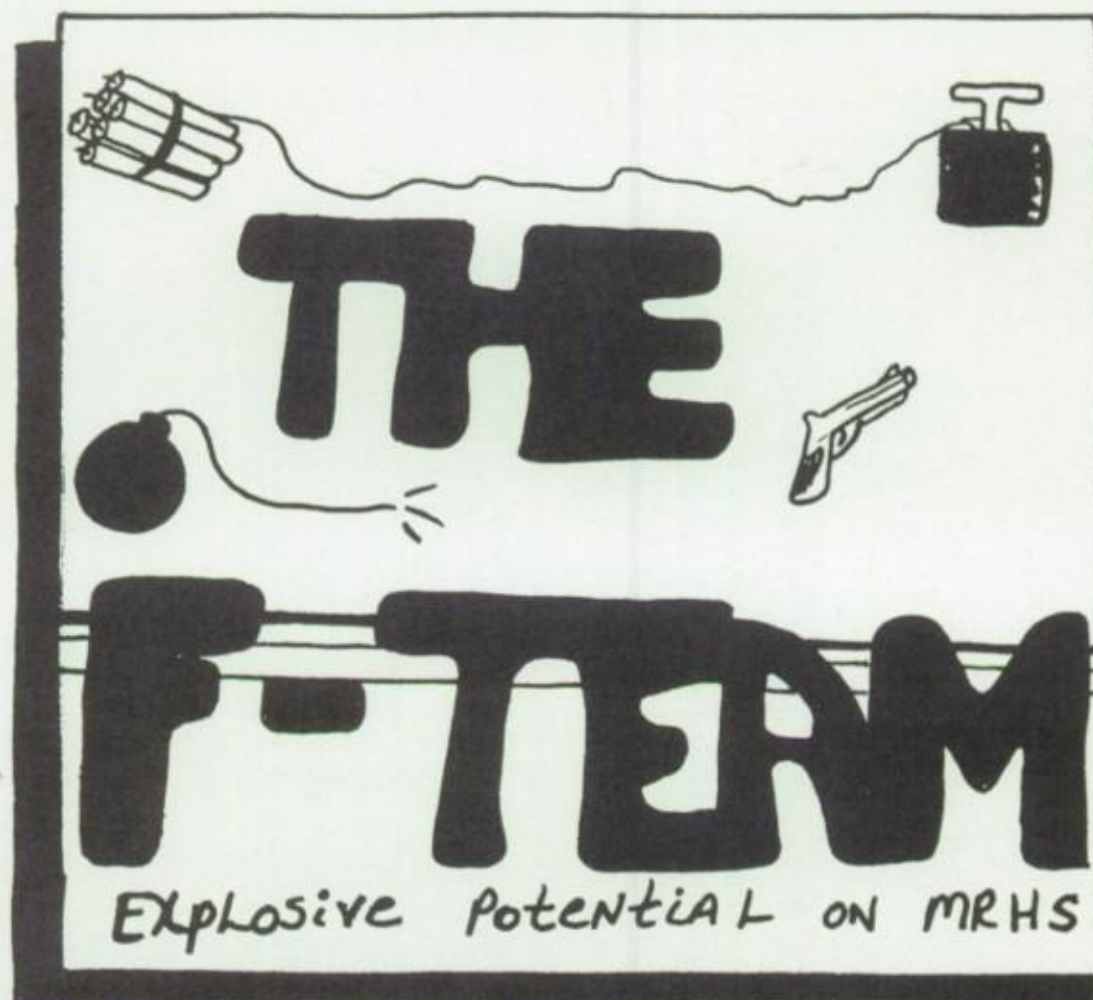

Bob has not been seen on television since that special. However, interest in Bob has continued to grow. Reginian Guide decided to "follow up" on the wanderings of Bob Ashman and found that he is doing exciting and inspiring work.

After the televised retreat, Bob was equally impressed with the girls he met. He began visiting their school and soon became a regular part of the school week. Although Bob is busy with his studies as a third-year seminarian, he visits often. He is interested in talking and listening to the students.

Reginian Guide interviewed students, each expressing a different aspect of Bob's personality: compassion, humor, understanding, intelligence and the list goes on. The students' enthusiastic responses showed their obvious appreciation for Bob and their support of his quest for the priesthood. He is a living example of someone who considers God an important and integral part of his life.

Bob meets with the students in and outside the classroom, and brings his understanding of God and his own faith to these students. This quote from Sylvia Hacaj, a senior we interviewed, provides a fitting conclusion: "Bob is a great person. What I appreciate most about him is his willingness to talk to me and give me encouragement. He is always saying 'Go for it. Try.' That really means a lot."

Next issue will be the 4th and final installment of Reginian Guide's "Follow Up."

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

By Ivad Enuff

This season was there the usual array of smash hits and total flops, ups and downs: the mundane and the exciting. Below are some of the best, worst and most interesting T.V. programs for the 1984-1985 season.

Early on in the season, "Practical Jokes" was an unsure bet with very little pre-season press. However, it turned out to be one of the season's biggest hits, with runaway ratings every week. It seems everybody loves a practical joke, even Charlotte Starlett, the victim, ended up with pie all over her face. She was just one of the many celebrities who took these things in stride and had a good laugh, in spite of the fact that the joke was on her.

"The Comedy Clinic" did not fair too well in the ratings. It was given minor "reconstructive surgery" in October but when the bandages were removed, the prognosis was not favorable. This sitcom about a doctor with a sick sense of humor finally choked to death in mid-November.

Another sitcom that ended up being "all wet" was "The Facts of Fun." One reason for its failure was its obvious similarity to another, successful series.

"The Facts of Fun" failed to make a "splash" with viewers and was all "washed up" after five episodes.

"Weather Girl" starring Cathy Dykes was one series which garnered high ratings in addition to critical acclaim. This comedy revolves around the life of a pretty, bubbly and extremely intellectual female weather forecaster. The network has already announced its renewal although some minor cast changes are possible.

The past year has also been filled with the emergence of new concepts in television programming and advertising.

Sportsworld added 10 games from the national all-female baseball league (NAFBL) to its yearly sports schedule. This will be the first time in television history that all-female baseball games will be televised nationally.

Pepsi-Cola announced that their new ad campaign would revolve around up and coming dancers — Marie Miserendino and Jill Rodriquez. It is rumored that each will receive one million dollars more than Michael Jackson earned when he was their spokesman.

One million dollars was spent for the production of this year's Academy Awards Show. The investment paid off, however for the four-hour awards ceremony, as the show grabbed the number one rating in L.A., Chicago, Dallas, and New York. End

Recently a banquet was held at the Wilshire Hilton in New York, to honor the "Outstanding Publication of the Year." This year's winner is Reginian Guide. The faces of the editors were absolutely beaming with pride, as they accepted the award and delivered the following speech:

"Putting Reginian Guide together is always hectic. Croppers here, photographs there, and quad packs everywhere. This basically describes the decor of our office, but, as you can see, the frenzy is all worth it. With all the confusion there comes a feeling of satisfaction that accompanies an award such as this. There are many people who deserve our gratitude for their contributions, without them, this honor would not have been possible.

Thanks to Taylor Publishing Company, especially John Ryan whose help, patience and understanding will always be remembered and appreciated.

For their continuous cooperation and support we would like to express our gratitude to the Administration and Faculty.

Thank you to Delma Studios, especially Henry, who kept on clicking even in 99.9° F heat and always reminded us not to take everything too seriously.

We would like to say thank you to the entire staff of Reginian Guide for sticking with us, coming up with that perfect idea and putting 200% of their effort into all of their work.

Thanks to Donna, Greta, and Mr. Hacaj at Metric & Multistandard for supplying all our address labels.

A special note of appreciation goes to our two managing editors Sister Mary Richard and Sister Donna Marie, who truly dedicated themselves to the production of Reginian Guide. Sister Richard is leaving the Reginian Guide organization and we would like to give her special recognition for her eight years of hard work. We wish her success in all of her future endeavors. Sister Donna will be taking over the reins, and we would like to wish her good luck.

Thank you to our families and friends for sharing our excitement and frustration, even if you didn't quite understand what it was all about.

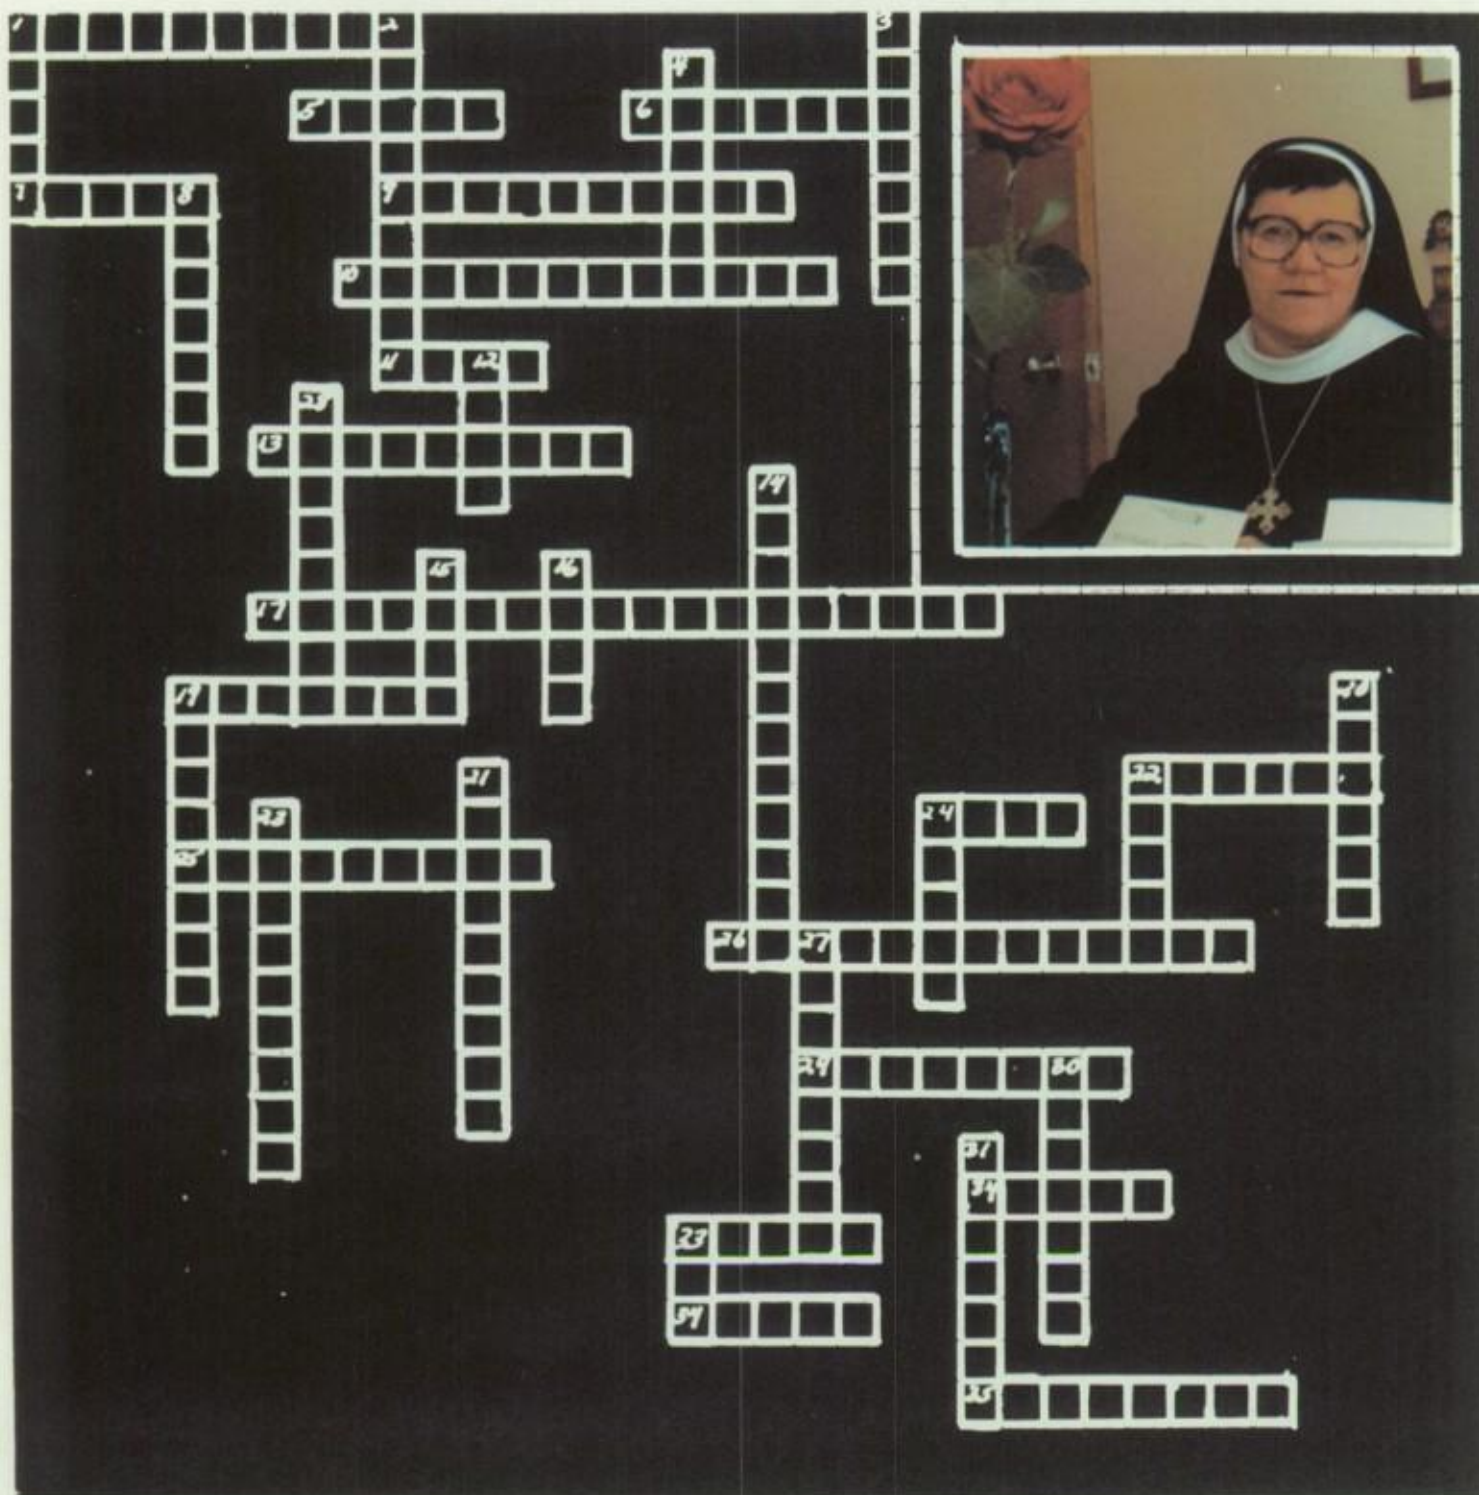

A big thanks to all the seniors for your support and enthusiasm. Your spirit really inspired us. We hope you love this Reginian Guide as much as we loved putting it together.

A final thank you to anyone we forgot to mention, who contributed in any way to our success.

Like all acceptance speeches, ours was a bit lengthy, but now that we have said all of our "thank yous," we'd like to leave you with one closing thought. 'We are the New Generation! Let's show it by the way we work, the way we play and, most importantly, the way we touch the world.'

Love and good luck to all,"
Laura, Donna and Sylvia End

Thanks to the publishers of T.V. Guide for permission to use their format. Thank you to Pepsico for permission to use the Pepsi logo.

Dear April,

Yes, everything I write sounds a bit sappy. HOWEVER, I am sincere! Well, April, I want you to know how glad I am that we have become closer this year. Your friendship is very special to me - you are a wonderful person. Your logical advice has helped me calm down many times when I would have gone crazy. Thank you for being my friend.

April, you are one of the nicest, most intelligent, deep, and sensitive and caring people I have ever met. Your brains and personality will take you far. Whatever you set your mind to you can do - don't forget that!

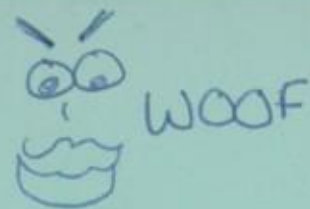

I have had so much fun this year with you, Celines, Fran, Panida, & Sylvia. I feel extremely lucky that I have made such wonderful friends this year. I only wish we could have been close from Freshman year, but as we are friends now, I want to remain friends. Don't forget me while you chase all of those men in the city! I promise to write. Just in case you don't have my number and address here it is: 948-0746 12 Wakeview Ave. Valhalla, N.Y. 10595

Dear April,

It has been some four years! I look forward moving on in life but I will miss so many friends I have made. You're a great friend and I treasure our friendship. We went through a lot as friends and I will always keep those memories. We survived driver's ed. and aerobics, we also survived that skiing weekend. (I won't tell you anymore ghost stories because I love having my own bed, thank-you!) We've shared some crazy times and I hope to share some more. You're very sensible and you know what you want in life. I hope all your dreams come true. Good luck at NYU and whatever you do! I wish you the best always. Please try to keep in touch and maybe in the summer I'll visit you so we can hang out in the village together! Make that definitely!

Love,
Janida

Let's Party

Dear April,

I didn't want to get mushy, but I can't help it. We had so much fun this senior year. We can never forget Celina's car, possible prom dates, (not for me), visiting the gap, the adventurous rides with Mom, King's saying, and all the other fun times we spent together. So many things we did and so many memories we still have in our hearts. I know you can't wait to graduate and move on to college. I don't have any doubt in my mind that you will achieve any goals you have. In my opinion, you chose the right college. It's going to be so hard to leave my special friends. We shared secrets, regrets, achievements, and so many other things. You say all the time that I can still come and see you down at NYU, but it will never be the same. You made me laugh so many times with your fun personality and your craziness. "Whooo, SEFFNER! THE FOXES IN TAMPA!" April, you don't know how funny you are! We shared so much together and now that we will be graduating, we must go our separate ways. But seriously, April, first the band comes out, then the balloons are let go.... Thanks for being my blue-eyed beauty.

P.S. I Always Loved Homer!

Love Always
Brian
